

Facts About EMF

What Are EMF's? Very simply put, EMFs are electromagnetic fields, invisible lines of force that emanate from any electrical or wireless device. The surface of the earth is also an EMF, so you can imagine with all these devices there's a chaos around everywhere. It's an invisible energy like the chaotic energy of someone with ADD or ADHD.

Why Are They dangerous? Wireless EMF signals can cause headaches, tinnitus, anxiety, insomnia, cognitive and heart problems, and more. Children are especially at risk. Simply put, these devices pull CQ10 and minerals out of our bodies, leaving our personal battery on 0-1%, limiting our immune fighting minerals so we are left vulnerable to anything.

When we spend time, literally barefoot on the earth or ground we do recharge because the earth is an EMF field. This is rare for us to do during the winter months, and for those who live in big cities. Being unable to earth or ground is often linked to one of the reasons so many people get very sick (or the flu) during winter months. Those people do not have a chance to recharge their inner battery.
